SUGGESTED COMMENT.

New York distrusts Kansas. The rest of the country distrusts New York.

With a few more streets improved Salem will be the prettiest city on the coast.

Harrison R. Kinsaid, the veteran editor of the Eugene Journal, would not be a bad man for the Republicans to nominate for secretary of state.

Wheat, wool and labor are low. Beer, whisky and tobacco are high as ever and in great demand. Times are very hard.

One member of the legislature had the sense to not reply to the letter asking his advice about calling a special session. That duty is put on the governor by the constitution.

The decision of Judge Bellinger of the U. S. circuit court is a severe blow to the corporations—as he gives the settlers to a large tract on a land grant near Forest Grove a title to their homes.

Meers, Thompson and Dekum made a bad mess of it when they ever allowed their disposition to pay every last depositor every last dollar to be called in question. Men who handle other people's money cannot be too scrupulous about making their honesty a subject of public discussion. They always suffer by it.

The Salem Journal wants the state treasurer to sue the several delinquent counties for their unpaid state taxes. The reason for this action is not apparent except that it would pile up a lot of money in the treasury for the state treasurer to speculate with and provide funds with which to make the proposed improvements to the asylum and reform school at Salem. The Journal seems never to have an idea that does not emanate from a selfish local interest.—Roseburg Review.

If it is selfish to require the county treasurers to turn over the people's taxes they collect for the state, we admit the truth of the criticism. It is probably local selfishness that causes the various county treasurers to hold back half a million of the people's money and become defaulters, as was the case in Douglas county. The Review probably endorses that.

NORTH HOWELL PRAIRIE.

The fall grain in this section is mostly threshed, the yield being fairly good, averaging about thirty bushels per acre.

G. W. Weeks contemplates moving to Salem this fall.

Prof. Andreggs, who taught school at North Howell and resided here some time previous, has been visiting old time friends in this vicinity the past week. He took his departure last Friday for his home which is at Oberlin, Ohio, where he occupies the chair of mathematics at the Oberlin college.

The prospect for a large yield of hops of superior quality is most flattering and with the price which is now being offered the returns will far eclipse other crops in the way of profit. The price for picking will probably remain as usual which is 50 cents per box.

The residence of Mr. Wiesner's is nearing completion and the contractors hope to have it done by the middle of September. It will, when completed, be an ornament to these parts and a model residence containing all the latest improvements and conveniences.

The fire alarm was sounded at 11 a. m. last Saturday coming from the field of Grover Simmons who resides at Central Howell. A small force of neighbors living near were soon on the scene where destruction and devastation seemed inevitable. However, by the indefatigable exertions of all who had assembled the fire was confined to a forty acre field of stubble the grain from which had been threshed only a few days before and as fortune intervened the grain instead of being stacked in the field had been stored in the barn. The only loss sustained was the burning of about 200 yards of fence. The fire was supposed to have been caused by the sparks thrown from a threshing engine which passed only a short time before the fire was discovered.

FROM AUMSVILLE.

The election to locate the school house site again came off Friday, the 25th inst. A full attendance was present, and the farce was carried through to the end. By a majority of two, the location was changed to the site where the school house is at present being built. At the close of the meeting the board of education met, and very rightly located the school site back again.

As yet no new meeting has been called to locate a school house site. If we were to make comments about this school house business, we would say that the opposition to education and the new school house, has gone far enough. Everything that they could do has been done; first, to defeat the board; second, to prevent them being negotiated. Thirdly, by delaying the building of the school house, and so successful have they been, that it is now impossible to have the building completed for the next term of school. Some people are willing to submit to the majority, but not so here. The opposition never ends.

On Monday (circus day), Mr. Pound, Swauke, Smith, Moyer, and Bard, went to Salem, but not one of them went to the circus. Some of them saw the tents at a distance. Mr. Smith told a good deal about the performance—that which some one told him. Mr. Moyer was down to the tents three times, and saw some of the hand bills, but a lion growled and frightened him away. He has not quite got over it yet.

Farmers are beginning to store their wheat and oats at the mill elevator. Very few are selling, as prices offered are too low.

How to Get a Handsome Husband.

"When some lucky Indian maiden found a red ear in the bushing, 'Muska! cried she, all together, 'Muska! you shall have a handsome husband."

The handsome man always admires the beautiful woman. Then simply make yourself beautiful. Remove all blotches, pimples, "forked signs of turkey tracks" from your features, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a tonic to the nervous, circulatory and procreative systems. Its use brings roses to the cheeks and sparkle to the eyes. Take it, and you will, like the Indian maiden, find a "red ear" in good health, an omen of future happiness. Guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it refunded.

Three-fourths of your ailments arise from liver troubles which Simmons Liver Regulator cures.

FROM WILLARD.

Harvest is swiftly passing.

Mr. Roy Miller of Salem, is visiting relations near Willard.

Miss Bosco of Hillsborough, is visiting Miss Stella Griffith.

More hands than there is money to pay, is the cry by all farmers.

Farmers are, as a rule, storing their grain in their granaries.

Miss Lida Thompson spent Sunday in Silverton.

Miss Musa Geer has engaged a school near Sublimity.

Miss Amy Forward came near having a serious accident Sunday while swinging. She came in contact with a coil. With exception of a few bruises and a good scare she was not hurt.

One dollar a year will cover your doctor's bill if you take Simmons Liver Regulator.

Trying to Corner Hops.

From the St. Louis Globe Democrat: August 29.—New York and London hop buyers have dropped just $4,050,000 by their failure to prevent the hop growers on the Pacific Coast from raising money to harvest their crop. A few weeks ago when it was known that the hop yield of Europe would fall 100,000 short of the demand a bunch of New York and London dealers, who had plenty of money at their command set about to corner the Pacific Coast yield, which this year will be 20,000 bales above the average or 150,000 bales in all. That number of bales represent 27,000,000 pounds. The scheme was to advance money to those needing it and most of the growers did need it badly, to harvest the crop, and make them contract to deliver the hops at from 10c to 12c per pound. With the failure of the crop in Europe and controlling the Pacific coast yield, the combine would have no trouble in forcing the price of hops up to 27c. Therefore, if 12c were paid the combine would have realized $4,050,000 on the Pacific yield alone, to say nothing about the balance of the country and Europe. Owing to the financial stringency the growers could not be accommodated by the coast banks, and they would be at the mercy of the corner. Extra Meeker, representing the growers, went to New York and, after several times giving up the effort to raise money as hopeless, he secured an advance of $15,000 from the Milwaukee brewers, and with that little hole in the combine, he returned to New York and renewed negotiations with Lindsay, Bird & Co., of London, who have finally cabled that they had arranged for the cash to harvest the crop. All the representatives of the corner here are refusing to buy for more than 10c per pound. Contrasts with the London money are being made by Meeker at 17c to 18c.

Prevention Better than Cure.

Many persons are afflicted with skin eruptions, boils or ulcers. BRANDRETH'S PILLS taken freely will in a short time effect a complete cure of all such troubles. Ulcers of long standing have been cured by them. Carbuncles have been checked in their incipency by them. The worst fever sores, bee stings, and the like have been driven from the skin by them. Only begin in time and a few of BRANDRETH'S PILLS will prevent many a sickness.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS are purely vegetable, absolutely harmless, and safe to take at any time.

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous you are, and you know that Carter's Iron Pills will relieve her, now why not be fair about it and buy her a box?

A woman who is weak, nervous and sleepless, and who has cold hands and feet, cannot feel and act like a well person. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness, and give strength and rest.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her feel like a different person, so they all say, and their husbands say so too!

Sympathy Appreciated.

I was a passenger on a Fourth avenue electric car an afternoon or so ago, and in the same car was a handsomely dressed and very pretty and modest looking young woman. She sat on the front seat, and her pretty face attracted the attention of two young men who occupied a seat in the middle of the car. She gave evident signs of being in considerable distress and now and then would twitch with pain. When at last she stopped the car and started to alight, the cause of her discomfort was evident. She was wearing tight shoes.

"My goodness," whispered one of the young men to his companion as the girl passed, "hasn't that girl got on tight shoes?"

"You bet I have!" the girl responded in a lugubrious tone as she turned through the door. The young man who made the remark turned several different colors, while the other passengers smiled audibly, realizing that the girl's words had been the thoughtless remark of one in pain and longing for sympathy.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Making Postage Stamps.

Every part of postage stamp making is done by hand. The designs are engraved on steel, 200 stamps on a single plate. These plates are inked by two men, and then are printed by a girl and a man on a large handpress. They are dried as fast as printed and then gummed with a starch paste made from potatoes. This paste is dried by placing the sheets in a steam fanning machine, and then the stamp is subjected to a pressure of 2,000 tons in a hydraulic press. Next the sheets are cut so that each one contains 100 stamps, after which the paper between the stamps is perforated, and after being pressed the sheets are filed away. If a single stamp is injured, the whole sheet is burned.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Origin of "Pants."

The words breeches, trousers and pantaloons are now used interchangeably, but originally the significations were quite different. Pantaloons were at first nothing but long stockings worn in Italy as a sort of religious habit by the devotees of St. Pantalon. Breeches originally reached from the waist half way to the knee and finally to the knee, where they were fastened with a buckle. Trousers are the present style of leg gear, a combination of the former two.—Exchange.

A Curious Relic.

A curious relic is at the mercy of public sale by the death of a waiter in Paris. He had served at a table in the cafe where Gambetta, Floquet, Casimir-Perier, Jules Ferry, et al. frequently dined. The table is marble, and the famous men covered it with signed epigraphs. An American offered the waiter 10,000 francs for the table, but he refused it.—New York Herald.
